

Steven Cooney / Vice President, National Account Operations

Steven T. Cooney, Vice President, National Account Operations, is responsible for expanding service within national accounts through alignment of the client, branch network and support areas. He leads a team that is charged with providing national clients with mutually beneficial operational solutions and aligning the Manpower branch network, headquarters, processes and technology to deliver upon that promise.

Cooney joined Manpower in 1997 as a Financial Business Analyst - International Finance and Internal Audit. Since then he has served as Manager - Business Integration, Director – Business Integration and Customer Information Services and Director – Financial Operations. Prior to being elevated to his current position in 2007, Cooney was U.S. Controller where he oversaw the financial reporting, controls and related analysis of Manpower’s business in the United States.

Before joining Manpower, Cooney, a CPA, began his professional career with the Arthur Andersen & Co. accounting firm. He holds a bachelor’s degree in business administration – accounting from St. Norbert College, De Pere, Wisconsin.